Professional experience

Thomas Sprenger is, together with Marc Engler, the leader of the criminal law and white collar crime team. He specialises in complex national and international white collar crime cases, including money laundering and corruption proceedings. Furthermore, he is an expert in international mutual legal assistance in criminal matters. Thomas Sprenger is equally familiar with handling both national and international clients.

Thomas Sprenger represents parties (private persons and corporations) before all prosecution authorities in the German-speaking area of Switzerland. He is not only acting as defence lawyer, but does also represent injured parties. Therefore, he is familiar with both perspectives of criminal proceedings.

As certified specialist SBA criminal law, Thomas Sprenger is always up-to-date professionally. He regularly contributes to many professional training seminars either as speaker or co-organiser. He was recommended by "Who is Who legal" as specialist in the area of "asset recovery".
